Part I of our September Major Auction Starts August 18th!

Our September Major Auction contains 800+ items from all of the world and from every decade, and many different sizes and is being run in three parts:

Part I (starts Tuesday, August 18th): 313 linenbacked posters of all kinds

Part II (starts Thursday, August 20th): 203 oversized linenbacked posters and non-backed posters

Part III (starts Sunday, August 23rd): 300+ window cards, folded one-sheets, lobby cards, 11x14 stills & more

WHATEVER you collect, we will be amazed if there are not items you would love to add to your collection!

Remember that, unlike EVERY other major auction, we have NO reserves at all (and we also have no buyers premiums at all), and we only charge you the actual cost of shipping, and we combine as many purchases into one package as can be safely done, which saves you lots of money. And remember that we COMPLETELY take the "buyer beware" out of our auctions. When you buy from any other major auction, you are "gambling" (on the condition, on the image being accurate, on the items being well packed, etc, etc). But in OUR auctions, you not only KNOW for sure that what we write is 100% accurate, but you also know we give a LIFETIME GUARANTEE as to authenticity on what we sell, something NO other major auction does!

If you have ever bid on our auctions before, then you know that we "go the extra mile" towards ALWAYS honestly describing every single item we auction, both in the words we use, and in the unenhanced super-sized images that clearly show you the actual condition of each item (including whatever flaws it has). In the case of linenbacked or paperbacked posters, we also accurately describe the PRE-RESTORATION defects 100% honestly, something no other auction does, and that is super valuable information to have before bidding.

SOME IMPORTANT ADVICE ABOUT OUR AUCTIONS, WHICH DIFFER FROM MANY OTHER AUCTIONS IN A FEW KEY WAYS: Please remember that in our auctions, a LOT of the bidders like to wait near the end of the auctions to place their bids! So don't get a false sense of security just because you have had the high bid for almost all of the seven days an item has been on for, BECAUSE ON BETTER ITEMS, IT IS NOT UNUSUAL FOR THEM TO DOUBLE OR TRIPLE IN PRICE IN THE CLOSING HOURS.

But also remember that our auctions have "time extended bidding", which means that five minutes must go by without a bid before an auction closes, so you can NEVER have an item snatched away from you in the final seconds (but you have to be watching the item as it closes, to make certain that no one entered a higher bid than yours in the closing minutes).

There has NEVER been a better time to be a collector of posters and related items, because never has so much been available on a year round basis, in a "level playing field", where everyone can win any item, if they are the final high bidder! Please go now and visit the links on page 3 and start feasting your eyes on all that is offered. But we have to warn you that you may get "sensory" overload from viewing so much great images of every type at once, and you may get a headache from having to decide which items you most want and want to bid on!

Ewbank's Movie Posters Auction

August 21

Affordable film posters to find at auction from childhood favourites to classic cinema

The most sought-after film posters can take hundreds of thousands of pounds at auction, but there are plenty to be found for £5000 at this Eubank's upcoming Movie Posters Auction to be held on August 21, 2020 in the UK.

This auction features 15 Star Wars lots, including those for films as recent as Rogue One. If your tastes run a bit more classic than the recent installments, there's still plenty to choose from. This British quad for The Empire Strikes Back with artwork by Drew Struzan is offered with an estimate of £200-400.

Did Disney's Little Mermaid define your childhood? What about The Incredibles? Or Who Framed Roger Rabbit? If you're looking to add a bit of youthful nostalgia to your walls, one sheet posters for all three plus the original animated Aladdin are offered with an estimate of £40-60.

There are plenty of James Bond posters on offer, which includes a British Quad poster for the first film in the franchise, Dr No. However, if you're after a different sort of British classic you might go for this US one-sheet for Carry on Spying from 1964, which has an estimate of £50-80. Or if you're a real carry on fan, you could go for one of the highest estimated lots of the sale, a poster for Carry on Cleo, also from 1964, which has an estimate of £3000-5000.

The Beatles had their film debut in the much-lauded A Hard Day's Night, which came out in 1964. This linen-backed US one sheet will suit the tastes of music and movie fans alike and is offered with an estimate of £300-500.

The four lots featuring Alfred Hitchcock film posters include this one for his 1963 film The Birds. The French poster features artwork by Boris Grinsson, and is offered with an estimate of £200-400. If you're after something by the master of suspense for slightly less, there are also posters for North by Northwest, Torn Curtain and Spellbound.

Ewbank's Auctions To Present Magical Mystery Tour The Tony Parker Collection Wednesday, August 26th

What do a vampire hunter's kit, a fossilized penis bone from a walrus, a Star Trek latex Borg mask and original memorabilia from the TV game show Bullseye have in common?

The answer is the late Tony Parker, who died aged just 70 last year. A fine example of the ultimate collector, his home in the south of England was covered wall to wall, ceiling to floor in his beloved rock, pop and entertainment memorabilia – especially linked to The Beatles – as well as the historical, the quirky and the quaint. From gold discs and musical instruments to movie costumes and photos of the stars, as well as an extraordinary range of taxidermy, he had it all, with countless additional items of interest from many and varied fields.

Magical Mystery Tour -
The Tony Parker Collection

Wednesday 26th August

Magical Mystery Tour - The Tony Parker Collection Auction, takes place on 26th August. It amounts to one of the most eclectic and bizarre collections ever consigned to auction is expected to fetch around £30,000.

It is now time to consign to both our 21st Annual Halloween Auction!

It is already time to consign to our next major auctions, our 21st Annual Halloween Auction AND our December Major Auction! We already have a good number of items for both auctions (ones that arrived too late for the current September Major Auction), and given the many wonderful results we have been receiving in all our auctions the past months I can't see why any of you with top items you have considered selling would not want to be sending them in for these great auctions!

Why consign NOW, when these auctions are 2 months and 4 months away? I am glad you asked! There are two excellent reasons for doing so. One is that those early submissions will be used in our early advertising for each auction, and it has been proven over time that the items in our early ads see increased bidding as a result.

But the second reason is more important! More and more in our Major Auctions we have been getting some of the most popular items consigned to us over and over. Great examples are the Jaws one-sheet and the Return of the Jedi (revenge style) one-sheet. We have one of each every major auction, because the prices remain strong! But this means that if YOU have any of these kinds of titles, then you want to send yours early, so as to greatly improve the chances that yours will make it in. I can practically guarantee you that if you wait until near the final deadline, at least one, and maybe several of your consignments of 1950s on items will likely not make it into the auction, because we have one ahead of you (and this even sometimes happens with 1930s and 1940s titles).

SO WHY NOT CONTACT US TODAY WITH WHAT YOU HAVE FOR EITHER OUR 21ST ANNUAL HALLOWEEN AUCTION OR OUR DECEMBER MAJOR AUCTION? Great selling prices, the lowest commissions of ANY major auction, and a 100% honest auction house to deal with that has a 30 year track record! Who could ask for anything more?

On the Other Side

Most of you know that Sue and I also very active in Louisiana film history. We personally collect Louisiana film posters, we've written the local film history books, we give presentations and do exhibits to promote both preserving history AND the movie posters.

For the past year and a half, we've been working with a new entity trying to get it started here – the Louisiana Film Channel.

Last week was the first actual step in turning it on. For the next couple of months, every Wednesday night at 8 p.m Central time, the Louisiana Film Channel will show Louisiana produced films, interviews and a special section called Louisiana Film History Flashback with Sue and I. (yep! We're now TV celebrities)

Our section is 6-8 minutes long and we present a short background on a Louisiana made film (which we've documented over 3000), with behind the scenes photos and stories. Our first episode was on the 1969 film, Number One starring Charlton Heston playing an aging Saints quarterback.

OK, you can stop laughing now... this isn't the new Beverly Hillsbillies. We are planning a lot of great titles and hope it will be entertaining at least. December is the official launch and expansion of the LFC so we hope it goes over well.

The episodes will be shown every Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m. on WLFT in Baton Rouge. WLFT 30.1 over-air, Cox 117 & Eatel 130 cable.

And for the rest of the world that is NOT in the Baton Rouge area, you can view through their streaming channel via the "30 On 3rd" mobile app or by using the following link to your Roku player! <https://roku.streamsource.tv/add/wlft30> - Until next time

The Invisible Man, Horror of Dracula Help Scare Up $2.3 Million During Heritage Auctions' Movie Posters Event

Several records set as little-seen cinematic and World War II offerings come to market for the first time

Imaged by Heritage Auctions, HA.com

The Invisible Man made his presence known during Heritage Auctions' Movie Posters event held July 25-26, with a scarcely seen teaser for the 1933 horror classic scaring up $228,000 to help lead the weekend's sale past the $2.3 million mark.

The weekend's auction was a blockbuster event, with more than 1,700 bidders on HA.com vying for the chance to own some of cinema's most elusive and cherished advertisements for itself.

"The sale was very active," said Grey Smith, Heritage Auctions' Director of Vintage Posters. "A large number of bidders participated, there were strong results overall — and some records set."

Most of the weekend's offerings exceeded pre-auction estimates — among them the Swedish one sheet for *Casablanca*, which nearly tripled its pre-event estimate when it sold for $55,000. Indeed, Casablanca's enduring appeal resulted, too, in the sale of two chairs from Rick's Café Américain for $78,000 — more than 10 times estimate.

And a record was set for the most ever paid for a Casablanca lobby card: $33,600.

Director Fritz Lang's masterpieces garnered some of the weekend's highest bidding — and frantic action. The German poster for Lang's 1931 noir *M*, in which Peter Lorre gave his greatest performance, opened bidding at $31,000 and, after a spirited back-and-forth between online bidders, closed at $108,000, a record price for this piece.

Another Lang masterpiece, 1927's Metropolis, likewise proved a big hit at our Movie Posters event: An incredibly rare poster from its initial U.S. release — when the film was dramatically truncated, before its eventual restoration and ascension to masterpiece — opened at $21,000. But heavy bidding lifted the poster, depicting the film's towering skyscrapers, to a realized price of $66,000.

One of the event's biggest surprises, and another record-setter, was the Italian 2-fogli for 1958's *Horror of Dracula*, starring Christopher Lee. This Hammer Films offering opened bidding at a mere $9,000, just under its pre-auction estimate. But by the time it finally sold, after a breakneck back-and-forth, the final price was a staggering $84,000.

A far less frightening offering was the stunning poster for F.W. Murnau's Oscar-winning 1927 film *Sunrise* — an early noir starring George O'Brien and Janet Gaynor, whose visage adorns the one sheet. Befitting the only known copy of this visually stunning one sheet, it sold for $48,000, far above its pre-auction estimate – and deservedly so.

And this was no illusion: a one sheet for 1919's *The Master Mystery*, featuring Harry Houdini and cinema's first robot, sold for $43,200 — well over initial estimates. It was the first time Heritage Auctions had ever offered the poster for this serial featuring Houdini.

Imaged by Heritage Auctions, HA.com

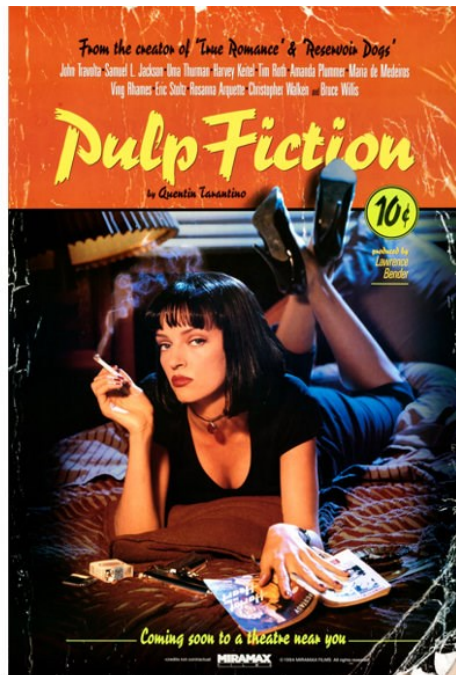

Movie posters weren't the only things setting records at Heritage Auctions' Movie Posters auction: "Never Was So Much Owed by So Many to So Few," a World War II poster so named for a Winston Churchill speech, sold for $45,600. That's the most paid for a World War II propaganda piece. Even more startling: Its pre-auction estimate was a mere $1,500-3,000.

But it wasn't just the higher-priced pieces smashing and setting records: A withdrawn Pulp Fiction poster, showing Uma Thurman and a smoldering Lucky Strike, sold for $6,600. That's the same price for which one bidder bought a first-printing of a Star Wars poster, significant because it was a First Printing Printer's Proof One Sheet.

I was very pleased with the outcome," Smith said. Clearly, he wasn't alone.

HOUSE OF DRACULA (1945) 27919 Universal Horror Movie Poster

Original U.S. Insert Poster (14x36) Folded Very Good Plus to Fine Condition

Universal Pictures Original U.S. Insert Poster (14x36) in very good plus condition for the Erle C. Kenton directed horror film HOUSE OF DRACULA (1945).

The film stars John Carradine as the bloodthirsty Count, Glenn Strange as Dr. Frankenstein's monster, and Lon Chaney, Jr. as The Wolfman. The film also stars Martha O'Driscoll, and Lionel Atwill. The movie is a sequel to HOUSE OF FRANKENSTEIN and it continues the pattern whereby Universal was making movies with all three of their famous monsters together in one film. Audiences loved the idea of seeing all three of these monsters up to their usual nefarious business, and this film was a commercial success for Universal. The film is only 67 minutes long, and probably was good material for a double feature. This poster was used in a theater. It is a folded insert, but it has been kept flat for several years, The fold lines are somewhat pronounced, but colors are vivid and the poster is structurally good. MovieArt Original Film Posters in Austin, Texas guarantees that this poster is an authentic U.S. insert poster for this film.

Some of the most beautiful movie posters ever produced came out of France by artists Boris Grinsson, Roger Soubie, George Kerfysen, Leo Kouper, Jean Mascii, Constantine Belinsky among others. These designers often chose to not use the artwork created by their American counterparts as references for their designs. Rather, they went their own way to create very different art, which more often than not, is far superior to their American counterparts. Check out our entire list to start or keep growing your collection.

THE 2020 SUMMER POSTER COLLECTION IS HERE

You can go straight to the BLOG here

Dear Posterophiles,

One of the only "positive" aspects of the pandemic is the fact that some of us have been viewing many movies due to lack of other entertainment available outside.

Having (re)watched and dissected The Cincinnati Kid recently, I am in awe of how the thrills, tensions, exhilarations of the card scenes are filmed and edited mixing addiction and competition; 2 common traits that are associated with gambling.

Gaming and gambling are ubiquitous in movies. A James Bond movie is not a real one if it does not include a scene taking place in a Casino (Royale or not).

Glamour and heist are two key components of any thriller set in Las Vegas, Monte Carlo or any luxurious exotic resorts.

So in THIS WEEK'S BLOG (Click here) I gathered posters in which gambling and/or casinos are essential visual elements where roulettes, card sharks and green, red and black colors dominate the magnificent images you will discover from classic movies as well as lesser known films.

Here is just one that may make you click on the Blog link, designed by Maciej Hibner for the Polish release of the 1958 French adaptation of Dostoevsky's The Gambler.

WHAT'S NEW THIS WEEK?

* NEW ITEMS: The 2020 SUMMER COLLECTION strong of 600 posters is available in the NEW PRODUCTS section. Here is a selection of 20 images selected somehow randomly.

It's Shark Week on Discovery channel so couldn't miss sharing with you this very creative limited edition print designed by Kii Arens for John Williams' concert at the Los Angeles Hollywood Bowl in 2017.

Jane Fonda must have lost a lot of strip poker games in her early career as she barely wore any clothes in many movies such as in La curree \(The Game Is Over\) represented here by one of its Italian posters.

Aside from gambling and casinos, Girls Revue are also an essential magnet for tourists. One of my favorite revue movies is Moulin Rouge, revisited on this brand new limited edition print by Neil Davies.

Rather than learning how to count the cards, I preferred to learn basic mathematics and measurements! 1975 vintage head shop poster titled Think Metric.

Childhood memories revisited with this splendid colorful Italian poster for the theatrical release of two episodes of the cult Anime TV series, UFO Robot (also known as Grandizer or Goldorak).

A different genre of animation yet as groundbreaking with the 1973 Cannes prized animated movie, La planete sauvage, directed by Rene Laloux with Art by Roland Topor. The French Grande poster is extremely hard to find.

Big debate to decide whether kids need to go back to school. Well if the morning soundtrack to school busing is by AC/DC as Randy Chavez painted it for their 2008 Oakland concert, then all parents will agree to send them back.

As thunderous as AC/DC's music, the sound of tanks shelling their opponents is one not to lessen. Superb Hungarian poster for the 1965 WW2 classic, The Battle Of The Bulge.

After all this tumult and violence, let's turn to romance with this gorgeous painting by Giuliano Nistri for the Italian release of the 1962 romantic drama, Angel Baby.

A different kind of bombshell...Simone Signoret in her most famous role in the 1952 French masterpiece, Casque d'or. The vintage first edition Japanese poster is a true rarity.

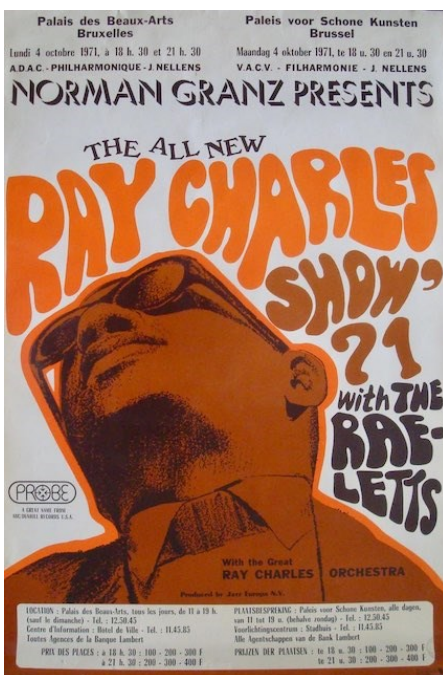

Not all heist movies are thrillers, they can be great comedies too such as Le cerveau (The Brain) starring David Niven and Jean-Paul Belmondo. The German poster is another rarity.

Ray Charles sang the main title of The Cincinnati Kid, included in the blog so here he is on the very rare vintage concert poster for his 1971 Brussels show.

Ray Charles lacked eyesight which is the key visual on the German poster for Brian De Palma's Obsession.

Another stunning visual used on the Italian poster for the release of the 1976 Greek erotic movie, Gloria Mundi (In Hell).

More superb image with the Romanian poster for Steve McQueen's 1973 prison drama, Papillon.

Neil Young made news by cutting links from facebook and google to his Archives website. Let's praise the 'loner' for leading us into this essential freedom march with this limited edition variant print on holographic foil paper.

Shooting up to the stars with the Japanese poster for the cult 1972 Russian sci-fi movie, Solaris.

Another colorful limited edition print for one of the best adventure movies ever filmed, Raiders Of The Lost Ark titled Adventure Map. Art by Hugh Fleming.

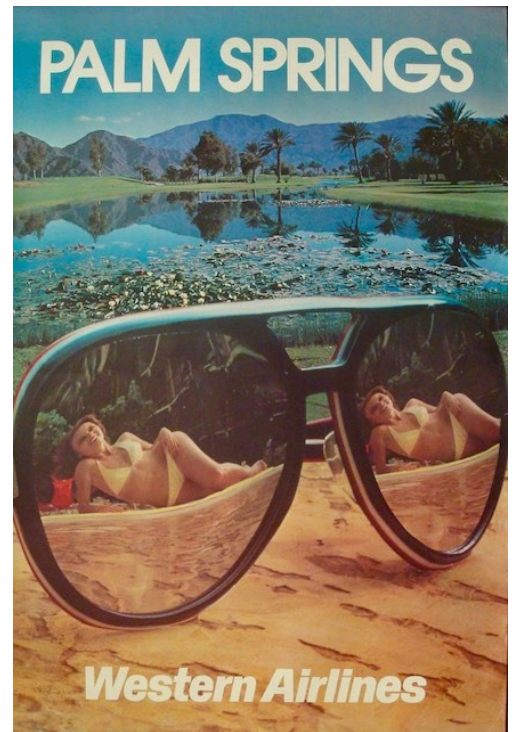

We all can turn into butterflies and reveal our inner sexyness. That's the concept of the Italian movie poster for the 1980 French erotic movie Super Sexual Fantasy (Confidences d'une petite culotte). Art by Enzo Sciotti.

We leave you with this iconic travel poster for the 1978 Western Airlines campaign enticing us to soak the sun in Palm Beach.
