MPA's Horror/Sci-fi/
Fantasy Auction - Sequel
Ends Wednesday - 11-30 - 8:00 CST

IT'S HERE!

We had a GREAT Horror Halloween auction that included ONLY horror/sci-fi titles. And for those that didn't check it out – you missed one of the greatest selections of both obscure and popular horror titles ever presented. BUT – those who follow our MPA auctions MAY have realized that all those horror titles only went through the letter “M.”

THAT'S RIGHT... we only made it HALF way through the horror titles so while we had plenty of Draculas, Frankensteins, ghosts, goblins, and monsters, we didn't even get to the poltergeists, vampires, witches and zombies!

We sort of hate stopping things in the middle, especially now with the holidays and gift giving just around the corner, so we decided to make this auction the other half of the horror titles PLUS add in some sci/fi and fantasy... MPA's Horror/Sci-fi/Fantasy Auction!!!

AND I THOUGHT LAST MONTH WAS GREAT!!!! I found some more early titles to add to those after M,.

ALTERNATIVE MOVIE POSTERS SHOWCASE AUCTION DECEMBER 7

Don't look up...

This limited-run poster debuted at Alamo Drafthouse Ritz during the Film Foundation Screening of King Kong and was released by Mondo in 2012. The poster is hand signed and numbered 23/175. Created in two different styles, this poster is the variant edition opposite the regular.

This poster is just one of the many to be offered in Heritage Auctions Alternative Movie Posters Showcase Auction will be held on December 7th in Dallas, Texas.

Alternative Movie Posters has expanded its base of artists, fans, and galleries over the last decade and a half as collecting has equally developed from the mass-produced film posters of decades past to these high-quality, limited edition prints. These exclusive giclée and silkscreen offerings are part pop culture and part fine art, illustrating unique reimaginings of cult cinema created by some of the most renowned commercial and comic art illustrators of the day.

With the new MPA Gallery and research area opening up and becoming more and more active, we thought it would be good to start a NEW MONTHLY ARTICLE – called (what else) News From the Archive.

Being the FIRST non-profit dedicated to the preservation of movie paper SHOULD BE OF INTEREST TO ALL DEALERS AND COLLECTORS so we want to keep everyone informed about what's going on. LAMP and Hollywood On the Bayou (our Louisiana entity) will remain completely separate, but in full support of the Archive.

It has taken a couple of months to get the new gallery/warehouse location ready to open but FINALLY things are beginning to come together. Did this move bring everything together – well.... no – we've already outgrown the location - the actual Archive is not there and there is still another 25x25 storage crammed full BUT this consolidates what would have been two locations and gives us a place for the public to come and give us a chance to generate funds to continue growing. (I mean ... come on, we've received over 1.5 million pieces donated to the archive so far and there's no way we could afford to house it all together in one place - YET.)

But now the Gallery is open and activities are starting to line up so I thought we would let you in on what's going. Gallery hours are Tuesday-Saturday 12 noon until 5 p.m. Additional hours are available by appointment.

First, the gallery is located in Gretna, Louisiana. Gretna is approximately 10 minutes from downtown New Orleans, just across the Mississippi River.

Southwood Shopping Center
605 Lapalco Boulevard #M,
Gretna, Louisiana.

THIS WEEK

NOW UNTIL 11/30 – MPA’s Horror/Sci-fi/Fantasy Auction is now ongoing until Wednesday 30th 8 p.m. with 292 lots from blockbusters to obscure. SEE DETAILS in the article on page 4.

NOW – The Louisiana horror poster exhibit in the Gallery is now down and replaced with the Gallery filled with a wide variety of posters, lobbies, stills and all types of goodies for sale for the holidays.

THIS MONTH

Dec. 3 – 2 p.m - we welcome our first Screening in the MPA Gallery back room. Royd Anderson, local documentary filmmaker will be showing his newest documentary for the 40th Anniversary of the Rault Center Fire (Nov. 27, 1972) in which 4 women jumped to their death from the 16 story building in downtown New Orleans.

Dec. 6 – 10 a.m.-1 p.m. - MPA Gallery Grand Opening sponsored by Jefferson Economic Development (JEDCO). There will be a ribbon cutting ceremony with speakers from both parish and state leaders, refreshments and gifts for those in attendance. AND a premiere of a new 40 minute documentary on the formation of the Movie Poster Archives created by the Loyola University film department featuring the Lt. Governor and local celebrities.

Dec. 27 – new Gallery exhibit

Dec. 28 – Jan. 4 – MPA End of the Year Auction with a wide variety of single items, group lots and bulk lots.

NEXT MONTH

Jan. 7-25 – Art of the Film Movie Poster Exhibit presented by MPA at the Slidell Cultural Center in Slidell Louisiana with a focus on 25 movie poster artists and their work.

Jan 20-21 – Art of the Film Expo – 2-day Expo on art in the film industry. MPA, LAMP and Hollywood On The Bayou will be there with tables and will give PowerPoint presentations.

January – TBA - MPA will continue to the next stage of a pilot preservation program with Brigham Young University for expansion to other major universities.

We are also planning several monthly activities such as a collectors night where we pull out rarer material especially for dealers and collectors to look through... and several other possibilities such as a German, French or Italian nights (we have local clubs in a variety of areas) and maybe even a classic Louisiana B-movie night in our screening area.

Other dates under negotiations and will be announced at a later date.

Moviemem recently acquired a small collection of 1920s Australian Press Books. They are all incredibly rare and have some fascinating information about the posters that were available to Cinemas back then. They actually sold daybills in lots of 100. Here's the full story.

EXCEPTIONALLY RARE Collection of Australian Movie Press Sheets - Recently Discovered

November 19, 2022 - Added by John Reid

Australian Press Books dating back to pre-1930's are incredibly scarce and we have been very pleased to discover a small collection of Press Books from the 1920's that I doubt has ever been seen before.

Collectors love to speculate on the print runs of various posters. They often have a vested interest in trying to push up the value of posters in their collection by saying that the print run for a particular film was miniscule. However, the fact is that no amount of guesswork is proof unless you have the evidence to support your theories. Press Books are a help although they don't specify the actual print run in terms of numbers.

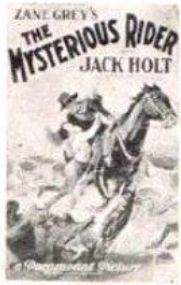

Not only do the Press Books from the 20s that we have found show the images of the posters that were printed but they also show the prices that cinemas were charged by the Distributor. US posters and Lobby cards were available to Australian cinemas along with Daybills. One Sheets, Three Sheets, Six Sheets and even 24 sheets. Australian Daybills were sold in lots of 100 for 25 shillings. A one sheet cost 1 shilling and sixpence. This would indicate that the print runs for Daybills must have been significant bearing in mind that there were a large number of cinemas at the time.

Despite the print runs few posters from that era have survived and when they do turn up, they are often found badly damaged under floor coverings. Australian 24 sheets from the 1920s are virtually non existent now.

Pictured on the next page are images from the Pressbook for Zane Grey's Mysterious Rider (1927). More images will be added in the weeks ahead to Moviemem's website here.

HOLLYWOOD & ENTERTAINMENT
SIGNATURE AUCTION
DECEMBER 17

In Heritage Auctions' Dec. 17 Hollywood & Entertainment Signature® Auction, cinephiles and collectors will find hundreds of costumes, vehicles and props from some of the most momentous and treasured films of all time — and even a Holy Grail. The blockbuster event spans a century of cinema and counts among its myriad highlights iconic offerings from The Wizard of Oz, The Ten Commandments, The Sound of Music, Mary Poppins, Dr. No, The Prince and the Showgirl, The Shawshank Redemption, Gladiator, Ferris Bueller's Day Off, The Princess Bride, the original Star Wars trilogy, Avengers: Endgame and Titanic. That is but the tip of the proverbial iceberg.

"I am always excited to announce a new auction, but this one is especially thrilling," says Executive Vice President Joe Maddalena. "It's an epic event, without question, filled with memories and magic from some of our favorite movies — from the wide-screen marvels and musicals that delighted us as children to the modern masterpieces and superhero films and space operas that keep us going back to the big screen."

For proof of this sale's scale, look no further than the two items offered from The Wizard of Oz, which Vanity Fair in 2018 called "officially the most influential film of all time."

Three decades since it was last offered at auction, and after years being displayed in myriad museums and traveling exhibitions — including Los Angeles Public Library's Getty Gallery — it's time once again for The Wicked Witch of the West's hourglass to return to market. This meticulously constructed piece — made of wood, papier-mâché and handblown glass filled with red glitter and decorated with gargoyles keeping watch over the witch's castle — is perhaps the most recognizable timepiece in cinema history. It is the very instrument the Wicked Witch uses to count down the moments Dorothy has to live — a beautiful thing no matter the moment, and forever linked to some of our earliest Technicolor nightmares.

Imaged by Heritage Auctions, HA.com

The hourglass, which stands nearly two feet tall, was first available as part of MGM's landmark 1970 auction, among "the things dreams were once made of." The studio actually reused the prop a handful of times after its appearance in Oz, including in 1941's Babes on Broadway — starring, amazingly enough, Judy Garland alongside Mickey Rooney in the Busby Berkeley-directed "Backyard Musical" (with Vincente Minnelli helming his wife's sequences).

Speaking of Garland, this auction also features one of the few Wizard of Oz dresses to come to market — in this instance, a "test" dress that comes closest to matching the final blue-and-white gingham pinafore Dorothy wore during her stroll down the yellow brick road. This dress, like the final one worn on-screen, was designed by Adrian Adolph Greenburg, who was best known only as Adrian, the MGM costume designer who also dreamed up Dorothy's red-sequined ruby slippers.

It's tempting to say the outfits offered in this auction threaten to steal the spotlight. These stitched-together fabrics, after all, tell the story of Hollywood: These wardrobes don't merely appear on screen — for a few minutes, for handful of moments, during favorite scenes — but they were made for very particular actors to tell very specific stories. In some instances they're as recognizable as the actors who wore them.

Among the outfits to be sold in December are four worn by Marilyn Monroe, who only grows larger in myth as the screens grow ever smaller: Elsie's signature pearl-encrusted mermaid gown from 1957's The Prince and the Showgirl, which co-starred Laurence Olivier; Angela Phinlay's jumper from John Huston's The Asphalt Jungle, among Monroe's earliest films; a William Travilla-designed dress from 1952's noir thriller Don't Bother to Knock; and the showgirl's leotard Monroe wore while promoting Gentlemen Prefer Blondes in 1953.

One of the most recognizable costumes in this event is also one of the smallest: the white bikini worn by Ursula Andress' Honey Ryder in the first James Bond big-screen adaptation, 1962's Dr. No. This is the very ivory cotton two-piece designed by Andress and costume designer Tessa Prendergast that was auctioned in 2001 for nearly $150,000 — easily, the most recognizable swimsuit in the world six decades after it first emerged from the water. As Bosley Crowther noted in his New York Times review, the film could easily have been seen as spy spoof as "it's not the mystery that entertains you, it's the things that happen along the way," including, he wrote, "the encounter with the beautiful blond bikini-clad Ursula Andress on the beach of Crab Key," which Halle Berry recreated in 2002's Die Another Day.

Here, too, is one of the chiffon dresses Kate Winslet's Rose wore while the Titanic sank. Several were made for those final, unforgettable moments when Rose tried to save Leonardo DiCaprio's Jack Dawson as the ocean consumes the doomed ocean liner, but few survived due to the soaking circumstances, among them this water-stained outfit designed by Deborah Lynn Scott, who earned an Academy Award for Best Costume Design for her work on Titanic.

Only six months after Heritage sold Jack Nicholson's Joker costume (for $125,000), we now offer the original hot-pink three-piece worn by the first on-screen Clown Prince of Crime: Cesar Romero's The Joker outfit worn as the mustachioed madman cackled his way through ABC's Batman series of the 1960s. The darker Dark Knight is here, too, represented by the cowl Christian Bale wore in Batman Begins and a Batwing miniature model used in Tim Burton's Batman.

Superman returns as well: This auction features one of the Man of Steel's complete outfits, from cape to boots, worn by Brandon Routh in Superman Returns. Kal-El's Kryptonian cousin also makes a cameo as Heritage offers Helen Slater's uniform from 1984's Supergirl. And as Roger Ebert noted in his review, Slater was easily "the best thing in the film [sharing] with Christopher Reeve the ability to wear a funny costume and not look ridiculous."

Imaged by Heritage Auctions, HA.com

For those whose tastes learn more Marvel, here's the most essential piece of Captain America's ensemble: the shield used by Chris Evans' Steve Rogers during the filming of Avengers: Endgame. This shield is the one of the best-documented props from MCU history to come to market: It was gifted by Marvel Studios for a nonprofit's raffle then sold at auction, and comes with a with a custom-crafted plaque signed by Marvel Studios Senior Prop Master Russell Bobbitt.

Are you not yet entertained? Because the closet in this auction is stuffed full of recognizable outfits, among them Russell Crowe's six-piece Roman General costume and helmet from Gladiator, Dick Van Dyke's colorfully striped jacket from the "Jolly Holiday" sequence in Mary Poppins, Julie Andrews' dress worn during key sequences from The Sound of Music, Charlton Heston's robe worn during his Red Sea-splitting turn as Moses in The Ten Commandments, Prince's purple \(of course\) coat worn during the Purple Rain performance sequences, Morgan Freeman's prison garb from The Shawshank Redemption and that sweater vest Matthew Broderick wore while taking Ferris Bueller's Day Off.

From that beloved 1986 John Hughes film, Heritage also offers the prop Ferrari 250 GT California replica last seen crash-landing in the woods after a few swift dent-causing kicks from poor put-upon Cameron Frye. It's but one of several famous and familiar rides offered in this event, which also includes Arnold Schwarzenegger's 1991 Harley-Davidson Fat Boy from Terminator 2: Judgment Day, Wesley Snipes' 1968 Dodge Charger from Blade and Herbie the Love Bug itself, a modified 1973 Volkswagen Beetle used for Herbie Goes Bananas. It's No. 53 on the race track (in honor of Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Don Drysdale), but No. 1 in our hearts.

Imaged by Heritage Auctions, HA.com

Every lot in this blockbuster deserves the collector's attention; no treasure can be overlooked nor its significance overstated. Some items, though, shout for attention — sing for it, anyway. From The Sound of Music, for instance, Heritage offers the very Goya Model F-19 six-string acoustic guitar Julie Andrews' Maria strummed during one of that film's most adored sequences, when she gathers the Von Trapp children on the hilltop to teach them "Do-Re-Mi." It has not been available at auction in more than 25 years.

From Star Wars and Return of the Jedi comes the very first three-dimensional Y-wing model ever built, from the hands of Industrial Light & Magic model maker Paul Huston. This is the so-called Hero Buck from which all that followed were crafted — and it's the only one that exists. This auction contains numerous Star Wars (and Star Trek) costumes and props; this one ranks among this event's holy grails. Which, alas, brings us to the Grail Cup and the Grail Tablet from Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade. Will the cup of a carpenter bring eternal life to the collector who walks away with it?

Beautiful! Brilliant! Kicks for Everybody! - A hat trick led by BARBARELLA, OKLAHOMA and HOWL, a rare GOAL! and more, as we head into the World Cup and Thanksgiving

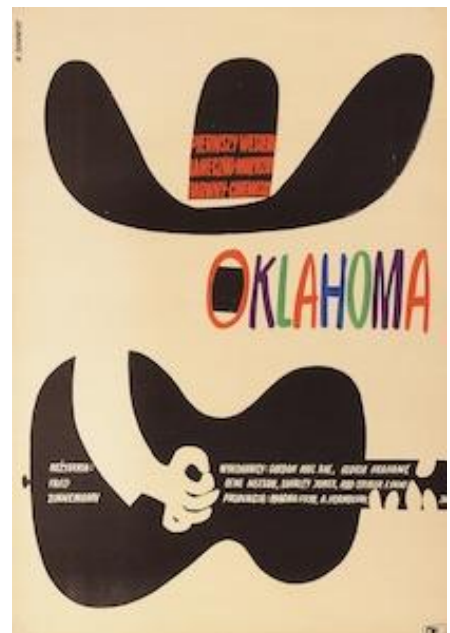

Dear Friends and Movie Lovers:

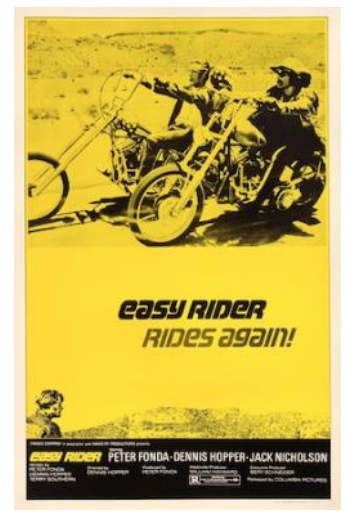

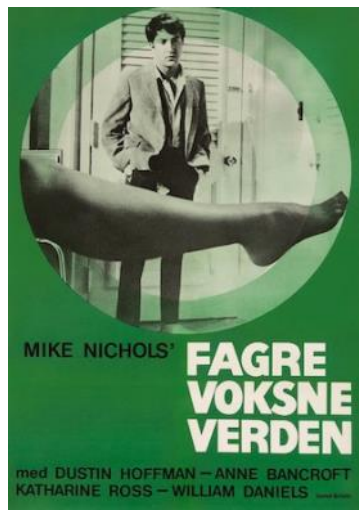

Hello from Hollywood. The U.S. will soon be celebrating Thanksgiving, while the rest of the world looks forward to World Cup action. We don't have a ton of posters focused on either event, but we did just get this rare GOAL! 1 Sheet from 1967. And we've also (finally!) sourced three long sought-after gems: the groovy Japanese BARBARELLA seen above...

...the exuberant, witty Polish OKLAHOMA! and Miyazaki's majestically ramshackle HOWL'S MOVING CASTLE. Plus great 80s and 90s titles, French 8 1/2, Danish THE GRADUATE and Italian ONCE UPON A TIME IN THE WEST: New

THE 2022 FALL POSTER COLLECTION IS HERE

You can go straight to the BLOG here

Check ALL the amazing Soul Music concert posters of the BLOG by clicking on the link above

Dear Posterophiles,

Bruce Springsteen just released a brand new album which is entirely made of covers of great Soul Music songs, classics and little known gems and I hope he will make many people delve deeper in this incredible Musical genre.

When it comes to pure singing that transcends genres and never fails to stir emotions on a deep level, SOUL Music (and Gospel...as well as other sacred Music like Gregorian, Georgian, Sufi...) are at the top of the Musical genres.

Soul Music is the direct offspring of Gospel but adds secular tones with tales of desires, sorrows, regrets, joys and so many other emotions. Singers (males and females) can be described as beggars, screamers and shouters.

Soul Music is plural (Stax, Motown, Southern Soul, Northern Soul, Philly Soul, Country Soul...) and is obviously being associated with Black musicians yet is multicultural and multi ethnic as we have Blue-eyed Soul, Celtic Soul, Psychedelic Soul, Country Soul....

Country Music is indeed a close sister of Soul Music as the themes and the singing depth are so close...which is not surprising since the soil of the land forming an hexagon from South of the Appalachian mountains down to Georgia (Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, the Carolinas) is charged with unique DNA that is reflected in the songs, melodies and playing, unparalleled anywhere around the world. Yet the greatest singers of the genre are indeed Black / African-American and the late 50's to the late 70's have produced some of the greatest songs and Artists of the last Century. Singers who could make us weep, shiver, clap, stomp and bring us to musical ecstasy with their gifted talents and skills honed on the hundreds of shows they gave (20 minutes each set repeated up to 5 times a night)

THIS WEEK'S BLOG (click here) showcases 10 different entries featuring Soul Giants: Aretha Franklin, Diana Ross, Dionne Warwick, Ike & Tina Turner, Isaac Hayes, James Brown, Otis Redding, Ray Charles, Stevie Wonder and many others with extremely rare concert (and some movie) posters originating from Germany, Italy, Japan and the US.

Here is one of the many posters you will find in the Blog, the sublime German concert poster for the 1967 show of one of the greatest Soul Duets ever, Sam and Dave with its incredible design by Gunther Kieser.

WHAT'S NEW THIS WEEK?

- ◆ NEW ITEMS: The 2022 FALL COLLECTION with 805 posters is available in the NEW PRODUCTS section. Enjoy a curated selection of 20 posters below.

As the Football World Cup started earlier today, we have to follow suit with this rare mid 70's Adidas advertising poster featuring the German legend, Gerd Muller. The poster is already linen backed.

Argentina is one of the strong favorites to win this World Cup so let's present one of Argentina's most (in)famous sons, Ernesto 'Che' Guevara. Here is Omar Sharif on the very rare day-glo poster printed in Italy for the international release of the 1969 biopic Che! Painting by Giuliano Nistri.

Bright colors on the very rare German poster for In Like Flint, the second episode of super spy Flint's adventures starring James Coburn. Partial Art by Bob Peak.

As cool and elegant as Flint is Roxy Music's singer Bryan Ferry. Very rare and uber cool concert poster for his 1977 German Tour. Another incredible piece by Gunther Kieser.

Elegance once more with the beautifully designed poster for the Japanese release of The Lady In The Car With Glasses And A Gun which is highly collectible because of the Jaguar car featured prominently.

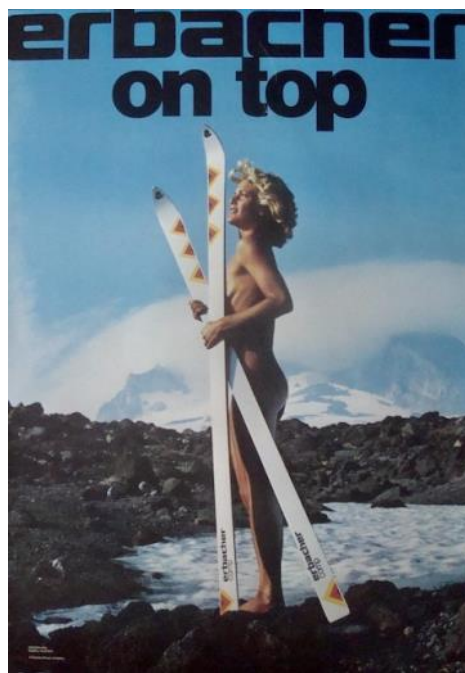

Women and mechanics...but this time with big chromed motorbikes and a leather catsuit which make the one sheet poster of the 1971 Bikers movie, The Hard Ride, highly collectable too.

After Women in cars and on bikes, let's enjoy Women on skis yet without any clothes as chosen by the Erbacher Ski brand on this very rare mid 70's advertising poster.

After all these beauties, let's bring the big monsters with a splendid brand new limited edition by Francesco Francavilla (curated by Laurent and Jack Durieux) revisiting the 1976 King Kong movie. This is the Variant print and we also have the regular print.

The neverending beauty of Horror movie posters with a stunning painting by Renato Casaro for the 1967 Italian rerelease of the 19587 British horror movie Blood Of The Vampire.

Art again with the very rare original poster for Andy Warhol's 1989 retrospective at The Metropolitan Museum of New York featuring several of Warhol's paintings of Elizabeth Taylor as Cleopatra. The poster is already linen backed.

Women can kill with their looks..and spearguns. Proof with the Italian poster of Deadlier Than The Male, the 1967 British eurospy movie starring Elke Sommer and Sylva Koscina.

Sixties' glory with one of the campiest movies ever made, the classic 1966 Batman movie. This is the large French door panel poster printed for the mid-90's Video release.

More superhero powerful images with a brand new limited edition print (out of a series of 5) of Wonder Woman by Des Taylor.

Cuteness with the very rare Japanese style B poster for the original release of Snoopy's beloved cartoon, A Boy Named Charlie Brown.

Animation Japanese style - Anime - with a very rare original poster for the Soundtrack release of Mazinger Z, one of Go Nagai's genial creations.

Anime is not just for the kids as we can see here with the hardly ever seen Japanese poster for the 1969 Pinky Anime, Maruhi gegika ukiyoe senichiya.

Japanese elegance with a sublime vintage travel poster (circa 1960) advertising Japan Airlines then brand new DC 8 titled It's Magically Japan. The poster is already linen backed.

We remain in Japan with an ultra rare vintage concert poster for T-Rex \(Marc Bolan\) show at Tokyo's legendary Budokan in 1973.

Bolan was a big fan of Elvis Presley so it seems natural to segue with this incredibly rare vintage Swedish movie poster for the King's first movie, Love Me Tender. Superb condition.

After all this avalanche of beauty and colors, we need to rest our eyes in a more serene environment, lounging by the pool like the gorgeous model gracing the mid-80's Piedmont Airlines travel poster advertising flights to Los Angeles.
