MAY 25 MOVIE POSTERS SIGNATURE AUCTION

In his landmark first full-length feature, Charlie Chaplin wrote, produced, directed, edited, and starred in The Kid, an impactful film which sees Chaplin's famous character take in and care for an abandoned child.

The Kid would be a turning point in Chaplin's career that proved not only was he a skilled comedian but an adept filmmaker, as he seamlessly blends slapstick and sentiment with a bit of social commentary on the condition of poverty and the woeful neglect of child services. Critics often proclaim it as Chaplin's most personal and autobiographical work.

The Kid is one remarkable film that stands out in Chaplin's oeuvre. Heritage is pleased to offer this exceedingly rare one sheet for the first time in its upcoming May 25, 2024 Movie Posters Signature Auction 7334. This poster features an emotional embrace between The Tramp and The Kid, an image unique to most paper for the film.

Imaged by Heritage Auctions, HA.com

This poster is in excellent condition with a few tears, pinholes, and a small chip below the title. Light touchup has been applied to the folds, and the borders and interior background have been airbrushed. A poster for one of the most beloved comedies of all time, this piece, the only known copy, is sure to be the centerpiece of any collection.

Other highlights of this great auction include the following:

One year ago eMoviePoster.com announced a MAJOR change that has completely changed our auctions, and most of our buyers are VERY happy with this change!

An entire year ago, on May 1st, 2023 we announced we would no longer accept ANY sub-$30 consignments AT ALL (and those in under "good to very good" must be $50+).

Almost ALL consignors have now realized this, and are either solely sending these lower priced items (or not sending any items), and that saves us massive time sorting through low value items, time we get to spend on the $30+ items we receive, which we are now getting to auction even faster than ever!

BUT NOW THAT WE HAVE WORKED THROUGH MOST PREVIOUSLY CONSIGNED LOW VALUE CONSIGNMENTS, OUR AUCTIONS ARE MUCH IMPROVED, AND ALMOST EVERY BUYER HAS APPLAUDED THIS CHANGE!

What do I mean? There are FAR fewer uninteresting items in our auctions, so more and more bidders tell us that, where they used to only look at the first few pages of each set of auctions (sorted highest priced items first), they are NOW looking through EVERY single auction, because even the lowest priced ones often contain items of interest to them!

And we at eMoviePoster.com are loving these changes, because not having to sift through mountains of low priced items (to find the single auction ones) means we are getting consignments to auction FAR faster than ever before, which is making most of our consignors very happy!

There are a few consignors who were sending their "low end" items to us, and no longer can't, and that makes them sad. But we certainly gave every consignor LOTS of time to send those items before we made the above change (because we literally warned about it for years).

And since we no longer accept ANY sub-$30 consignments AT ALL (and those in under "good to very good" must be $50+), that means that once we work through the last of our bulk lot items that were consigned over a year ago, we will then cease having any bulk lot auctions at all.

So here is another warning! Those of you who like buying bulk lots (often at pennies on the dollar!) should REALLY pay close attention to our bulk lots auctions coming up (now held around once every three or four months) because one day we will hold our last one, and you want to take advantage of these giveaway prices while they last!

Celebrating Star Wars' Empire Day

May 8 - 30, 2024

If you're looking for something special from that galaxy far, far away, then Propstore's May 2024 Collectible Posters Live Auction has you covered.

One of our most treasured Star Wars collectibles is an exceptionally rare 'Empire Day' poster, which stormtroopers would have carried during their parade through London to promote the worldwide premiere of The Empire Strikes Back (1980) - 44 years ago! This 'Empire Day' event cleverly tied into the official British Empire Day, which was celebrated around this time on the anniversary of Queen Victoria's birthday. The clever marketing tie-in and connection to such a prominent national event created a truly memorable (and now rare) piece of Star Wars memorabilia in the build-up to the highly anticipated sequel's release.

Bidding is available online by phone and by absentee, with lots starting to close from 2 PM BST/ 6 AM PDT on May 30, 2024

There are over 50 out-of-this-world Star Wars lots, including rare autographs, original posters, and a selection of amazing modern alternative designs. And with other content from over 230 different fan-favorite titles, there's definitely something for every collector. Don't miss out and view the full catalog online and register to bid now.

We have averaged over SIX million dollars of sales the past 6 years (and every sale was a REAL sale, to a real bidder, and NO other auction can say that). Why consign anywhere else when you can consign to the best auction there is? Contact us TODAY with what you have!

MORRIS EVERETT FOX 8 INTERVIEW

FOX 8 in Cleveland, Ohio recently interviewed legendary movie poster collector/dealer Morris Everett at his popular shop The Last Moving Picture Company in Kirkland. Here's the article that accompanied his video interview.

“I like to see people get what they’re interested in. I love having it,” said Everett with a smile. “I love the fact that somebody [says], ‘Oh you couldn’t possibly have anything on this film.’ Oh, yes I do.”

He’s a collector’s collector, who at one time had more than 100,000 movie titles.

“I bought tons of stuff,” said Everett. “I bought too much, actually. I got myself into financial trouble which, of course, has turned out really well now that I’m selling, because I have the largest stock of movie posters in the United States available for sale. I have a strength in the 20s, 30s and 40s, which hardly anybody else has, so people keep buying from my eBay store.”

His online store, called LastMo, sells about 40 items per week, Everett said.

“You look up your favorite actor or actress Norma Shearer, Leslie Howard, Basil Rathbone and — ‘bing, bing, bing’ — it brings you to us,” he said.

What has the most financial value changes over time. Right now, the hottest buys are for sci-fi and horror vintage movie posters, said Everett.

“Star Wars is still hot. You see Star Wars all the time. Collectible, but will Star Wars hold up? I don’t know. Not so sure,” he said.

That mystery is part of the fun.

“We sold a poster once for $80,000. That was a number of years ago. It was ‘The Invisible Man’ with Claude Rains, 1933,” said Everett.

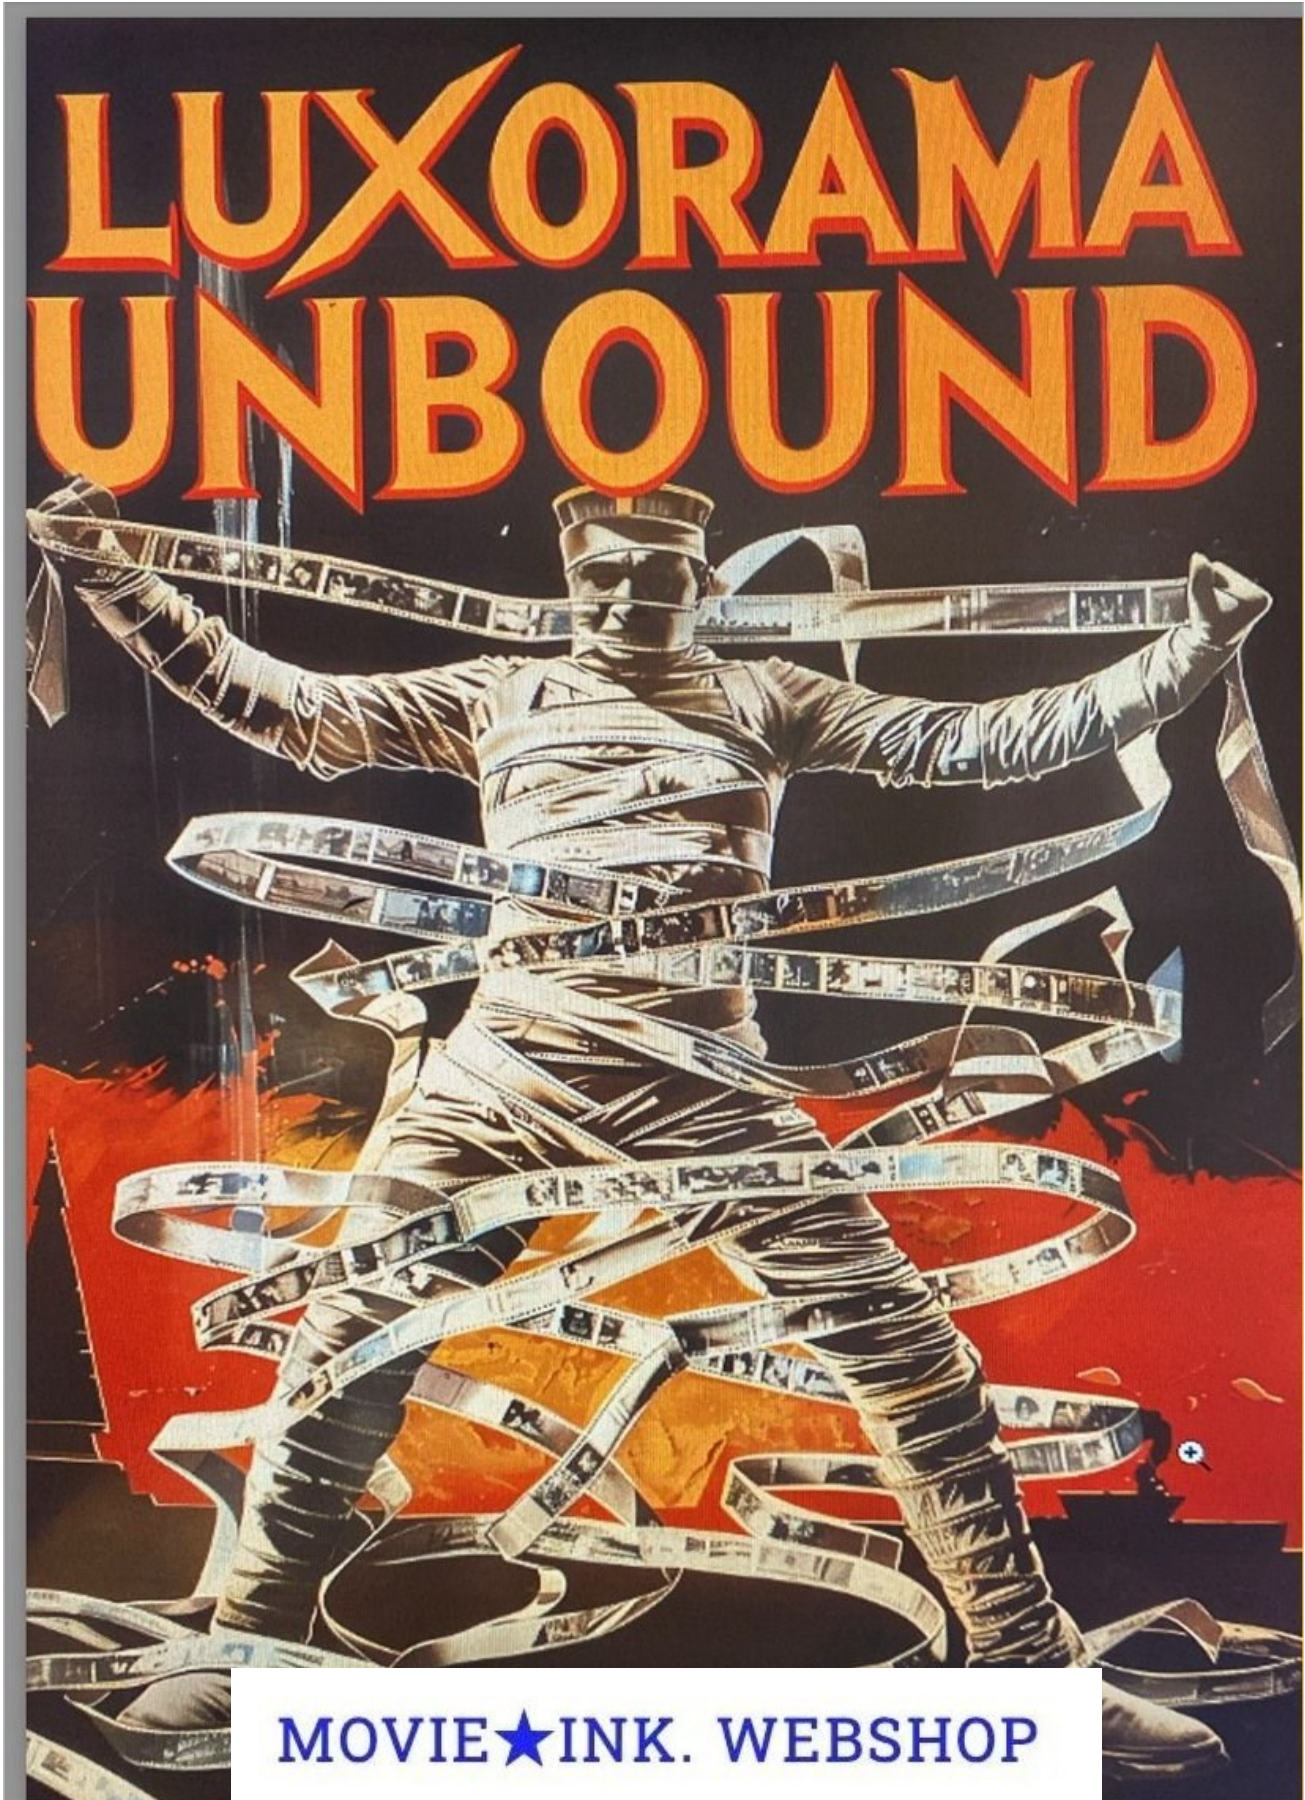

He considers himself a keeper of history.

These posters and the stories behind them are adored and stored by a devoted fan of moving pictures.

“I love it, it’s great,” Everett said.

Our poster of the month May!

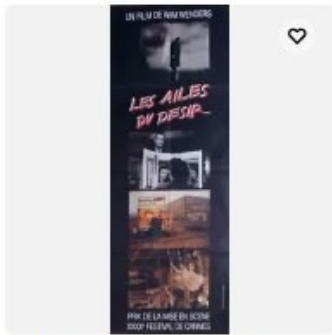

At this year's Cannes Film Festival, the jury president is Greta Gerwig, who inspires the film world with her dynamic presence both in front of and behind the camera. We like to remember the enchanting Greta Gerwig in FRANCES HA (2012), who stumbles through New York in search of happiness and with whom you inevitably fall in love despite her craziness.

The original posters are getting extremely rare, we are offering the original Swiss poster in the 70x100cm format. Our poster of the month @ www.movieart.ch!

176 New Accusations - so many great posters that we couldn't wait until June.

Dear Friends and Movie Lovers:

Hello from Hollywood. We're jumping the gun a bit with this June collection: next week I'll be traveling, and our site overhaul (which began in February) is almost done. The site may be a bit glitchy for the next few weeks, as changes are implemented and I apologize for that. Please let me know if you have an issues while searching, browsing or buying.

The current lineup includes some ultra-rare gems: a French poster for PAINTERS PAINTING, a previously unseen British 20x30 for VALLEY OF THE DOLLS, a 1 Sheet for Glauber Rocha's ANTONIO DAS MORTES + a THX 1138 3 Sheet

And of course we've got popular vintage classics like UMBRELLAS OF CHERBOURG, BLOW UP, PERSONA ...

... along with a group of mostly rolled 1 Sheets from the past 30/40 years: the scarce Imax INCEPTION, BOY AND THE HERON (U.S. and Japanese), SHAWSHANK ds, Bertolucci's THE DREAMERS and upcoming releases such as FURIOSA, WICKED and JOKER FOLIE A DEUX:

THE 2024 SPRING POSTER COLLECTION IS HERE

Dear Posterophiles,

The Japanese Airport in Kansai just celebrated its 50th anniversary with an unequalled world record: Not having lost a single bag in 50 years!

This speaks volumes about Japanese professionalism and efficiency; feats which can be expanded to all levels of society and business including the local movie industry which during its golden era in the 1960's and 1970's produced thousands of movies per year; the majority of them shot on schedule and/or under budget! A lesson to be learnt by Hollywood and by the French Cinema industry (which by the way only exists because of public fundings).

Among this massive output of movies, the Yakuza related movies represent a huge portion mainly produced by the leading studios TOEI, NIKKATSU, DAIEI and SHOCHIKU.

The Yakuza culture can recently be appreciated in the excellent 2 season TV series, TOKYO VICE, which I strongly recommend you all to free some of your precious time to watch.

However this culture, which is inherently part of the fabric of Japanese society, is even more complex and violent than the series portray and the Yakuza movies of the 1960's and 1970's certainly do not brush off those traits.

The Yakuza movies can be split into many different sub genres: Gambler (Bakuto), Gang (Gyangu), True Stories (Jitsuroku), Modern Showa era (1900-1930) (Ninkyo yakuza eiga)....

The success of those movies was massive in Japan resulting in studios creating series ranging between 2 to 18 movies to cater to the public appetite.

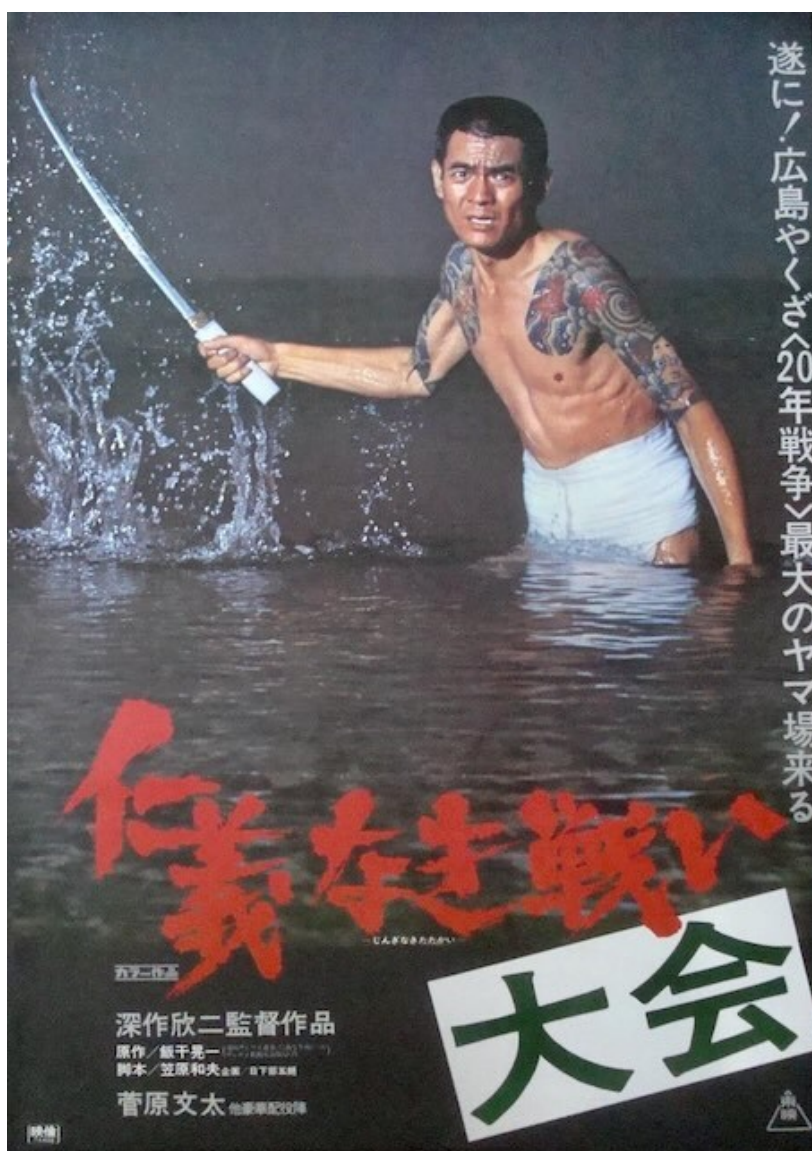

While the masterpieces of the genre are the works of maverick Director Seijun Suzuki in the mid 1960's for Nikkatsu Studios, the vast majority of the classics come from TOEI studios who had the best and biggest stars of the genre: Ken TAKAKURA, Koji TSURUTA, Tatsuo UMEMIYA, Bunta SUGAWARA, Tomisaburo WAKAYAMA and the gorgeous and lethal Junko (Sumiko) FUJI

The success of those movies and Artists also mainly relied on the looseness and freedom those characters and actors displayed as Japanese moviegoers, often constrained by the society's strict rules, loved identifying themselves to those cool cats wearing forbidden tats.

THIS WEEK'S BLOG (click here) focuses on 10 series from TOEI ranging from 1963 to 1978 and is one of the most thorough Blogs we've ever assembled as we tried to present the motherlode of nearly ALL posters available from each series (including as many different formats as possible). Posters must be seen as collections to appreciate their visual importance and I humbly think we have achieved this .

We are also exceedingly proud to say we offer the largest collection of Japanese movie posters in the world outside of Japan!

Here's one of the many that you can find in the BLOG, the incredible portrait of a furious Bunta Sugawara for the 1973 Japanese Festival poster for the best worldwide known yakuza series, Battles Without Honor And Humanity.

WHAT'S NEW THIS WEEK?

* NEW ITEMS: The 2024 SPRING COLLECTION with its 738 items (many already sold out) is available in the NEW PRODUCTS section. Enjoy another curated selection of 20 posters below.

We drift away from the fury and violence yet still remain in Japan with the ultra rare original ATG release for Federico Fellini's 1963 masterpiece, 8 & 1/2 \(Otto e mezzo\) starring Marcello Mastroianni.

Numbers in movie titles are common but 20000 Leagues Under The Sea is among the longest. Fantastic brand new very limited edition print by Thai Artist Kwow revisiting the Disney adaptation of Jules Verne's classic novel starring Kirk Douglas.

For those of you like me who enjoy scuba diving, you know there is no equivalent on earth to the beauties we discover underwater including sirens! Italian poster for Pericolo negli abissi, the 1977 documentary about the Andrea Doria shipwreck discovery.

More Italian half naked beauties with this large cheeky 1985 advertising poster for the Pom-Dry apple liqueur. The poster is already linen backed.

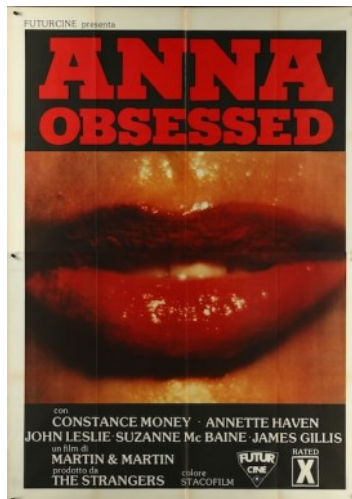

Women (like all humans) come in all shapes and forms and they should all be celebrated. German poster for Double Agent 73, the 1974 British sexploitation spy movie (so bad it's enjoyable) starring the well endowed Chesty Morgan. The pink pasties are only added to preserve the sanctity of this artistic page and are not on the poster itself ;-)

Shocking images are legions and Artist Jeff Koons sure made a career (and lots of money) creating them. Great image used on the large poster created for the 1992 Amsterdam Museum retrospective of Koons' oeuvre.

Lips...What would we do without them? No talking, no eating, no singing, no whistling, no savouring, no kissing. Beautiful design for the large 2 panel Italian poster of Anna Obsessed, the 1977 Sexploitation movie.

Lips are also associated with BB, Brigitte Bardot, whose pout seduced the whole world. Here is one of many very very rare original Japanese posters I recently acquired and one I had never seen (even reproduced), ie. the original poster for En cas de malheur \(Love Is My Profession\) co-starring Jean Gabin. A Gallery exclusive

From one French icon to another...Superb portrait of Alain Delon painted by Japanese artist Yokoyama in 1972. One of the 430 Delon posters the Gallery offers.

A portrait of an historical figure and a true rarity. Just after Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated, a benefit memorial concert was scheduled to take place at the famous Fillmore Auditorium (West) in San Francisco on April 27, 1968 which would be between the BG 117 and BG 118 posters of the Fillmore series. However the April 27 date is listed and confirmed in all the books for show by Bluesman Albert King. So this one remains a true mystery. The common suggestion is that the concert was indeed planned and scheduled but never happened (maybe for security reasons) and only a very few number of posters were printed and never used. This is a guaranteed original.

A concert which did take place in 1968 is the tour de force played by The Who and Fleetwood Mac at the Los Angeles Shrine. The original concert poster is an amazing psychedelic image designed by Victor Moscoso, reproduced in the Art of Rock book AOR 3.75.

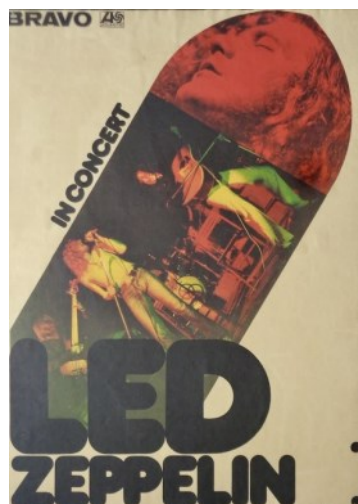

The British invasion was not only musical but also cinematographic as Stanley Kubrick depicted British violence so well in A Clockwork Orange. Incredible brand new limited edition print on foil paper by Matt Dye / Blunt Graffix.

Horror Italian style with one the greatest Giallo movie ever filmed, i.e. A Lizard In A Woman's Skin, directed by Lucio Fulci starring Florinda Bolkan.

If Jim Morrison was named "The lizard king", Robert Plant was "The Golden God". Another ultra rarity and Gallery exclusive is the original concert poster for Led Zeppelin's 1973 German Tour. The poster is linen backed. It has been trimmed by an inch on the lateral sides (most likely to fit a previous owner's frame).

Bruce Springsteen just kicked off his new European Tour with another 3 hour long set proving his energy is thankfully undiminished by his recent health issues. Here he is younger on the impossible to find original British Quad poster for the No Nukes concert documentary filmed at New York's Madison Square Garden in 1979.

Let's bring more colors with the splendid large 2 panel Italian poster painted by Renato Casaro for Bandidos, one of the many new Spaghetti Western titles just added to the Gallery's collection.

Italian Artistry again coupled with historical significance with the masterful large 2 panel Italian poster for the 1969 rerelease of Exodus starring Paul Newman. Sublime painting by Silvano 'Nano' Campeggi.

Let's move away from seriousness to pure cheekiness with this image, making us go bananas, designed by an insanely perverted Japanese designer for the 1971 Pinky movie, High School Girl's Secret Diary.

I am so disappointed by the poor design of the 2024 Paris Olympics Games so I thought about bringing up a very rare British poster printed in 1972 to advertise the London exhibition of all the 1972 Munich Olympics Games posters designed by Otl Aicher.

Yes the Paris Olympics Games look badly engaged with not just bad designs but horrendous prices, overpaid infrastructures and worst of all the complete destruction of the city by the despot Parisian mayor who has launched so many simultaneous unfinished roadworks making the city completely locked. Yet Paris' beauty still remains. Gorgeous original 1979 French Tourism poster featuring the pre-scintillating era Tour Eiffel.
